THURSDAY, AUGUST 15, 1745.

Abstract of a private Letter from Mentz, dated August the 10th, 1745.

A M not at all surprized at the • Amazement People are in • Abroad, as to the Course of • Affairs here in Germany, • when I consider that we
• who are on the Spot, and • have all the Opportunities • possible of gaining Intelli• gence, are scarce able to say • any Thing with Certainty worth hearing. I have, however, promised you the News of this Place; and you shall have them with all the Fidelity in my Power; and if they do not answer your Expectation, you must ascribe it to the Un-luckiness of the Conjuncture, and not to any want of Care and Diligence in me, much less a Desire of hiding from you any Thing I know; for I profess, that in my Judgment, the Obligations of the whole Empire to the British Nation are so strong, that I would write to you with the same Freedom I should use to a Countryman in my own Way of thinking.

Such as are too conversant with the French Agents, may have learn'd from them, not to amuse only, but also to abuse their Readers, by artful Misrepresentations of Facts; but I flatter myself, Sir, and I hope not without Cause, your Correspondence here will convince you that the old German Sincerity is not totally lost.

The Conferences at Hanover, relative to the Election, are now over, since the Baron de Munchausen, First Ambassador from that Electorate to the Dyet, arrived here this Morning from Herrenhausen, and went immediately to pay his Respects to our Elector, with whom he dined, and afterwards continued his Journey to Frankfort. There is no doubt his Serene Highness acquainted his Excellency with the Contents of an Express arrived from thence the Evening before; by which we were informed, that the Prussian Minister not only oppos'd the Election of the Grand Duke, but even threaten'd to quit the Place, and to protest against all further Proceedings, in case he was propos'd as a Candidate; which is a Stroke of Violence we did not expect, nor can we account for it. According to our best Intelligence, this springs from some new Orders sent from the Court of Berlin, as they seem to be wounded in the Conclusion of some secret Treaty, of which a Whisper had reach'd us before, but it was not well credited; yet this Account following on the Back of it, renders it in a manner certain. Baron Munchausen did not seem much alarm'd, but said, He carried Proposals, which once accepted, would restore Lustre and Credit to the Empire.

It is certain Count Kevenhuller has Orders to go to the Army of the Grand Duke, in order to acquaint him with the Result of the Conferences at Hanover; and to inform his Royal Highness of the Reasons which have induced the Queen, his Consort, to go to Wartzhourgh, rather than Frankfort, till the Election is over. He is likewise to take the Opinion of his Royal Highness, and his Council, as to the Expediency of his going to Frankfort at this Juncture, or remaining in the Army, to prevent any Suggestion of his influencing the Dyet by his Presence. We cannot form any Conjecture as to the Resolution that will be taken thereupon; but we apprehend our Elector communicated his Sentiments very fully on that Head to Baron Munchausen. It is impossible to express how warm a Sense every body here shews of the Endeavours used by his Britannick Majesty to settle the Peace of Germany on a solid Basis, and his unwearied Diligence in soliciting all the Princes and States of the Empire, to unite in Time for the Preservation of their Country, with a Steadiness and Courage capable of defeating the open and secret Contrivances of such, as to gratify their private Views, would sacrifice the Germanick Body to its capital Enemy.

It is generally believed, that his Royal Highness will shortly find it necessary to divide his Forces into two Corps; of which, one will continue in our Neighbourhood, and the other will march higher up the Rhine. In the mean time, a Body of 6000 Austrians, or more, remain at Stockstadt, ready, as we apprehend, to pass the Rhine upon any Occasion. The Prince of Conti is re-assembling his Troops with much Diligence, and continues remounting the River, having but a very small Number of Men about Worms, or in that Neighbourhood. We hear not a Word now of any Reinforcement marching towards him; so that we begin to be convinced the French trust wholly to the King of Prussia for Assistance, and propose nothing more this Campaign, than acting on the Defensive in Germany, and thereby preventing the Grand Duke from detaching any Relief, either to Bohemia or the Low Countries. It is a strange Scheme, and if executed, will give the World another Notion than they have hitherto entertained of his Prussian Majesty; who, by the Services he seems inclined to render his potent Ally this Campaign, will make him his Master ever after.

As to the Politicks of this Court, I dare assure you, that whatever you may learn from other Quarters, they are perfectly steady and uniform; so that it will not be at all the Fault of our Elector, if every Thing at Frankfort does not go on as well as can be wish'd: He has not only acted himself with all the Vigour imaginable, but has also taken the utmost Pains to persuade other Princes to act with like Spirit. The 19th remains fixed for the Day on which his Serene Highness makes his publick Entry into Frankfort; and there is no Question that he will proceed without the least Delay, to the Choice, Declaration, and Coronation of an Emperor. If the Enemies of the Balance of Power, and the publick Weal of Germany, should attempt to contest this Election, the Dyet must be obliged to support its own Act; and if the War becomes general thereby, there is at least a greater Probability of obtaining by this Means a good Peace, than by any other. I think that I have now amply discharged my Promise, and sent you every Circumstance worth Notice here: When any Thing further occurs, which may deserve your Attention, I shall be punctual in communicating it. In the mean Time, I am,

Yours, &c.

LONDON.

According to the last Advices from the Army, both Officers and Soldiers are in good Spirits, lodg'd in a strong, well fortified Camp, where they have plenty of Provisions, and are not in the least apprehensive of the French, but, on the contrary, daily expect a Reinforcement from the Rhine; on the receiving which, they will be again able to act offensively.

The Penelope, Capt. Hardwyn, from Oporto, arrived at Liverpool, brings Advice, that the Fleet of Merchant-Ships under Convoy of the Shoreham Man of War, of 20 Guns, and a Dutch Man of War of 60 Guns, arrived safe at Oporto the 16th of July. O. S. and the Ships for Lisbon were then well off the Bar of Oporto.

held before the Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor at Lincoln's Inn Hall.

Yesterday Admiral Anson's Baggage was put on board one of his Majesty's Ships lying at the Hope; and this Morning the said Admiral will set out, in order to embark on board the said Ship, and take upon him the Command of the Squadron which is to convoy his Majesty Home.

Foremast-Men, late belonging to his Majesty's late Ships the Anglica and Solebay, who are returned from France, and are not already enter'd to serve in some of his Majesty's Ships, to repair immediately, the former on board the Tilbury, and the latter on board the Ruby, both Ships sitting out at Portsmouth; on board which Ships they will be paid their Wages for the Anglica and Solebay before the Tilbury and Ruby proceeds to Sea; and Conduct Money will be allowed them, and Carriage for their Chests and Bedding to Portsmouth. But if any of the said Men fail to repair, as above directed, they will not only lose their Wages for the Anglica and Solebay, but the Marshal of the Admiralty will be order'd to apprehend them, in order to their being tried at a Court Martial as Deserters.

Thomas Corbett.

Admiralty-Office, August 6, 1745.

Several of his Majesty's Ships sitting out for the Sea in the Ports of this Kingdom, being in immediate want of a Supply of Seamen for the present Service, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have, with the Approbation of their Excellencies the Lords Justices, order'd every Sixth Seaman to be taken from the Crew of all Ships or Vessels having Protections; Boys under Eighteen Years, and old Men exceeding Fifty-four Years, not being esteem'd in the Number of the Crew: But their Lordships do hereby declare, That all Seamen so taken, shall be discharged whenever they desire it, after the 30th Day of November next coming, and shall have a Ticket made out for their Wages: And their Lordships are authorized by their Excellencies the Lords Justices, to declare, that the Wages due on such Tickets shall be forthwith paid by the Treasurer of the Navy; and they shall, besides, have a Protection from their Lordships, to secure them for one Month from the Press.

HAT Mr. Hauksbee's Medicine for the Cure of the Venereal Disease, in the Way of an Alternative, without Salivation, or Confinement, is only to be had of Mr. John Watson, Apothecary, near Hungerford-Market, in the Strand, London, at one Guinea the Box; containing Twenty-one Pills, with Directions.

Where may be had gratis, Mr. Hauksbee's Offer to the Publick, for communicating the Composition and Preparation of this Medicine, for the Use of the Army and Navy, and for the general Benefit of Mankind; together with the Experimentum Crucis.

The two Pamphlets, containing an Account of the Effects of this Medicine in the first Forty Cases, are printed for, and sold by James Roberts, in Warwick-lane; and at the Pamphlet Shops in London.

N. B. By the Facts in these Pamphlets, it fully appears, that this Medicine is more Safe and Gentle, and more certainly Efficacious in the Cure of the Venereal Disease, than any other Medicine now known to be in Use for this Distemper. As the Appeal to Experience has been publicly made, and the Gentlemen of the Faculty have not been able to invalidate the PROOF, and decline coming to the Test of the Experimentum Crucis, above mentioned, it may be presumed, that all impartial Judges will pronounce it unexceptionable.

Fra. Hauksbee.

Friday, August 9.

Whereas it was inserted in Yesterday's Daily Advertiser, that Ralph Wheeler was committed to Clerkenwell Bridewell by Sir Thomas De Veil, for stealing a Silver Watch, the Property of Mr. Paul Portinier, as was a certain Pawnbroker to the Gatehouse, for receiving the same, knowing it to be stolen: And whereas the Person committed for receiving the same, is therein said to be, a Pawnbroker, with a Design, as is conceived, to cast a Reflection on the Profession.

The Pawnbrokers following this Business, and no other, and who lately submitted themselves to a Parliamentary Enquiry, in Justification of their business, think it incumbent upon themselves to inform the Town, in this publick Manner, that the Person so committed, was not a Pawnbroker, but a Journeyman to a certain Saleman; it being from Paragraphs of this Kind, designedly put in by Enemies to the Profession, that the Odium against the Business has chiefly arisen.

The Grand SPECIFIC SYRUP for CHILDREN.

THIS Syrup, by many Years Experience, has been remarkably serviceable in all Disorders incident to Children, and is the best Preservative known against Convulsions and Epilepsies, when cutting their Teeth. It expels Wind, prevents four Belchings, and frequent Pukings, helps Digestion, and effectually appeases the Gripes. Its Virtues are known to be of uncommon Service in the Chin, or Convulsive Coughs, likewise in all Consumptive Cases, either of Children or Grown People, from Obstructions, Knots or Ulcers in the Lungs, attended with Coughs, Catarrhs, Hectic Fevers, Night-Sweats, Flushings, and Watings of the Flesh; likewise in those Eruptions of Infants, call'd the Red-Gum, entirely rooting out and destroying the Acrimonious Humour and inward Heat of the Throat, which, for want of timely Relief, kills multitudes of Infants.

It is so innocent, that it may be taken by a Child of a Day old; and is so far from laying the Foundation of a Train of Evils, by stupifying the Senses, and only easing the restless Pains, pausing the Stomach, &c. which are well known to attend all Preparations of Opium, and which, by worst Experience, has ruined multitudes of Infants, by locking up in the Vessels those very Mischiefers they were given to expel, and which, in a little Time, break out with a double Force, thereby at once ruining the Constitution of the Infants, as terminating in Death.

Sold at Dr. BATEMAN'S Warehouse, in Bow Church-Park, London, as One Shilling the Bottle, containing above an Ounce and a half, sealed up in the Margin, with explicit Directions and Instructions in every Case incident to Children; together with a brief Account of the Nature and Original Cause, as well as Cure, of the Distemper common to Infants, according to the Opinion of the best Authors, Ancient and Modern.

PARALYTICON, seu Anima Nervorum A Stupendous Chymical Essence, which infallibly cures the Palsy, and all other NERVOUS DISEASES:

THE very first Dose of it (a few Drops only) instantly penetrates the inmost Recesses of the Nerves, and darting almost as quick as Lightning thro' the whole Human System, diffuses kindly Warmth and genial Comfort to the weaken'd Limbs, and all Parts of the Body, and affords immediate sensible Relief in the most obstinate Palsy, and all Paralytick Effects, Shaking, Trembling, Numbness, Deadness, and Weakness, whether universal, or of particular Parts only, or whether long contracted, or of many Years Continuance.

And as the very first Dose makes an apparent demonstrable Amendment, so the continuing of it for a short Time as surely accomplishes a perfect Cure, not only of the most grievous Palsy, or Relaxation of the Nerves, but also of their Cramp-like Contractions, Shaking of the Sinews, and all other Nervous Complaints whatever, and that in Persons of either Sex, or of any Age, and whether occasioned by preceding Illnesses, fast Living, hard Drinking, long Courses of Physick, great Colds, or excessive Fatigues either of Mind or Body.

Words cannot sufficiently express the uncommon, the unparalleled Efficacy of this great Medicine, as all who take it frankly acknowledge; and its vastly superior Excellency to all other Remedies, may be more securely rely'd on, for the absolute Cure of the Palsy, and all Paralytick Effects and Nervous Indispositions, than the Celestial Cortex is for Intermittents.

It redresses all Disorders of the first Passage, creates an Appetite, procures a good Digestion, enriches the Blood, restores the natural Vigour and steady Use of the Limbs, and strengthens the inflected Joints, Muscles, Tendons, Ligaments, and whole Habit to an immense Degree.

It is also very pleasant to take, is comforting and cordial to the Stomach and Bowels, and for Safety might be given to the youngest Infant.

It is to be had only, by the Author's Appointment, at Dr. Radford's Toyshop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Tower, in the Strand, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with printed Directions at large.
